Press Release

Thursday 12th January 2012

Clergy Sexual Abuse Survivors at Exeter Christian Resources Exhibition 25th and 26th January 2012

Survivors from MACSAS will be attending the Christian Resources Exhibition for the first time. Operating out of London, MACSAS advises and supports adult survivors of clergy sexual abuse nationwide through its Helpline, website, conferences, postal and e-mail response and personal survivor befriender visits.

MACSAS works with survivors, families and friends of survivors, MACSAS also works with churches and church groups, voluntary agencies, police and social services to raise awareness of clergy abuse.

MACSAS will be represented at the exhibition by male survivors Julian Whiting and Noel Chardon.

Both Julian and Noel are two highly trained professionals in child protection/safeguarding. They are very approachable and informed on all areas relating to clergy abuse and frequently speak with members of the clergy of all Christian churches as well as survivors and families.

Julian is Events and Conferences Director for MACSAS and also organises many new initiatives and projects for survivors.

Noel is Pastoral Outreach Co-ordinator for MACSAS and has therapeutic clinic experience of working with clergy offenders.

It is hoped that their presence at the exhibition as committed Christians will facilitate recovery and healing from all those wounded and hurt within this very traumatic area.

Do come along to the MACSAS stand D4 and talk with either Julian or Noel.
